Public Ceremonies Are Planned For Miss America At Paducah

Miss Donna Axum, Miss America of 1964, will be met with an official welcome and other appropriate public ceremonies when she arrives at the Paducah airport on Tuesday, July 21, on her way to a special showing in her honor of "Stars In My Crown," Kermit Hunter's outdoor drama of West Kentucky, at the Kenlake Amphitheatre in Kentucky Lake State Park near Murray.

All of Miss America's friends and fans are invited to meet her at the Paducah airport when she arrives at 12:06 Noon to begin her drive to Murray.

Miss Axum will participate in a specially arranged program at the amphitheatre at 7:30, preceding the show, which will begin at its regular curtain time of 8:15. Arrangements are being made for as many people as possible to meet Miss America personally at the amphitheatre, as well as at the Paducah airport.

Tickets for the special show are on sale at $3.00 each at all of the regular "Stars In My Crown" box offices in West Kentucky and at the amphitheatre box office. Tickets may be reserved in advance by calling or writing any of these offices. Season tickets will not be good for the "Miss America" performance, but season ticket holders will have the first opportunity to obtain tickets for the special show.

There can be no doubt that the appearance of Donna Axum, Miss America of 1964 at our Banana Festival last year was an important factor in the success of the colorful event. It was awfully nice of her to come here. Ours is one of the smallest towns in which the national celebrity has ever appeared. We gave Donna a wonderful reception and she appreciated it.

Donna Axum has been one of the greatest boosters our Festival has ever had on the national scene. She never fails to give us a plug when the occasion arises. I think we ought to say "Thank You," to Donna Axum next Tuesday when the lovely lady arrives in West Kentucky for a special performance at "Stars In My Crown," at 7:30 p. m. Donna will be the reigning American beauty from now until the middle of September. She can give us a lot more publicity for this year's Festival, if she chooses. Next week is a good time for us to show our appreciation to Donna by having a large number of cars and people at the airport and at the performance letting her know that her Banana Festival friends are glad to have her back in West Kentucky.

I have made arrangements for the bus company at Murray to come to Fulton on Tuesday afternoon at 5:30 P. M. and make the trip to the amphitheatre in time for Donna's appearance. She is planning to sing and do some portions of her act that she did when she was selected as Miss America last year. Her program starts at 7:30 p. m. The regular performance of "Stars In My Crown," will begin as usual at 8:15 p. m.

The ticket to the Miss America appearance and "Stars" is $3.00. The bus trip is $1.75 round trip. Just think, for that little money, you can see a national celebrity, enjoy a magnificent stage play, and have a chauffeur to drive you in an air-conditioned vehicle. But on top of it all, you're telling Donna Axum you appreciate her help.

If you plan to go, and I hope you will, how about wearing a Banana Festival hat, or corsage, or sumpin' to let folks know we're going to have another really, big sh-o-o-o-o-w again this year!

You can call us at the News office or the Chamber of Commerce, phone 43, for reservations. Please join in the fun.

Dr. James Moak First Christian Speaker Sunday

Dr. James A. Moak, who has been serving as the general secretary of the Kentucky Association of Christian Churches since July 1, 1967, will be the guest speaker at the First Christian Church in Fulton next Sunday, July 19.

Dr. Moak is presently serving on a number of boards.

Prior to being called to his present responsibility as general secretary, Dr. Moak has served as pastor of four congregations in Kentucky. In addition to these pastorates, he has also served as state evangelist of Mississippi Christian Churches and for two years as president of the Unified Program of Christian Churches of Kentucky.

A graduate of Transylvania College, Dr. Moak received the B. D. Degree from The College of the Bible and the honorary D. D. from Transylvania College.

Eight-Year-Old Drowns In River In Hickman Port

An eight-year-old Hickman boy, Michael King, drowned in the Mississippi River in the Hickman port area sometime Tuesday afternoon, and dragging operations began early Wednesday morning. The body was recovered about 1:30 Wednesday afternoon.

Michael, who was the son of Billy Joe King, a commercial fisherman in Hickman, is reported to have been playing with a companion on a barge tied up along the riverbank across the flood-wall from the county jail.

Fulton County Sheriff Joe Campbell reported that it is not known whether the boy fell into the river from the barge or was swimming when he drowned. Campbell said that reports indicate that he could not swim, yet his clothes were found on the barge by City Policeman Fred Edgin and Deputy Sheriff Josh McClure about midnight.

Late Tuesday night the boy's companion admitted to having witnessed the drowning and led searchers to the scene but was too frightened and emotionally disturbed to tell investigators how it happened.

The search for Michael began about 9:00 Tuesday night after he failed to return to his home. After finding his clothes the Hickman Rescue Squad set up lights and began to drag the river in search of the body. Hickman police and the Murray Rescue Squad also joined in the operation.

According to Sheriff Campbell the water in which the young boy drowned was about ten feet deep and without current.

Dr. Pogue Pays Tribute To Anderson, Miss Martin

Wayne Anderson, a former editor of Fulton High School's newspaper, the Kennel, is working this summer at the place where he got his first taste of printer's ink. Dividing his time between working for the News, and doing publicity for "Stars In My Crown," and this year's Banana Festival, Wayne is one of those accurate reporters that any editor loves to have around.

Having graduated from Murray State College this Spring, Wayne has earned a scholarship to Tulane University where he will do further study in history.

A very fine compliment has come to Wayne as a result of a story he wrote for the News about Miss Mary Martin. Perhaps more pleasing to Wayne and to the News is that the compliment comes from Dr. Forrest Pogue, one of America's foremost historians. Dr. Pogue's first volume of the life of George C. Marshall has been published recently.

Here's the letter from Dr. Pogue, which adds some laurels to the teaching abilities of Miss Martin:

Dear Sir:

I was pleased to see the fine article in a recent issue of your paper on Miss Mary Martin. As a former teacher at Murray State College, I taught a number of her onetime students. I certainly agree that we could tell when she had trained a student. If he or she had done well for her, that student not only studied his textbook but did some reading beyond the assignment, he had an interest in other subjects, and he knew how to put on paper what he had learned.

In 1964 after I had given the first test in a course I was teaching, I

Ticket Sales Begin For Al Hirt Show

Advance reserved-seat tickets for Al Hirt's performance during the Banana Festival will go on sale Monday, W. L. Cottrell, executive secretary of the Festival Association, has announced.

Early plans call for holding the famed jazz musician's concert outdoors. Festival officials fear that indoor facilities will be inadequate if the show is forced inside by adverse weather. Holders of advance tickets will be guaranteed seats under any circumstances.

The tickets will be on sale for $3.00 each at the Chamber of Commerce office and other locations to be announced later.

Planner For Fulton Assigned By State

Charles L. W. Leider, Area Supervisor of the West Kentucky Area Office of the Division of Planning at Madisonville, Kentucky, has been designated as City Planner for Fulton, Kentucky.

Leider formerly served as City Planner for Fulton from 1960 to 1962 when the Planning Commission was chartered by Clarence Moline and Leslie Giddings. Since that time he has been on leave of absence from the Commonwealth attending Yale University where he earned a Masters Degree in City Planning.

COURSE TO OFFERED

A course in home economics designed to prepare teachers of the subject will be offered this fall quarter at the University of Tennessee Martin Branch.

More than sixty per cent of the residential water users in South Fulton will get an increase in their water bills as a result of a motion made by Councilman John Bland and voted upon favorably by Councilmen Bill Jones and W. W. Claiborne. Two Councilmen, Bobby Matthews and Rex Ruddle voted against the Bland proposal. Mayor Milton Counce has asked for 30 days to study the motion before he takes action to veto the measure. The action of the three-man faction in the strife-ridden, confusion-fraught Council would:

1. Discontinue the current system of billing residential consumers for the water they used each month and substitute a flat $3.50 charge, no matter how much water was pumped into the residence. In addition the consumer would be charged $1.75 for the sewer system indebtedness, making a total of $5.25 a month.

The $1.75 sewer fee is based upon the bonding company's regulation that each consumer shall pay half of the monthly water bill toward retiring the issue to repair the system. The customer now pays $3.00 a month minimum for water consumption and $1.50 sewage fee.

2. Either reduce the water department's work force or fire the recently hired employee at the sewage disposal system. Bland's contention is that the water department employee who now reads the meters would be available to work at the sewage system, since the flat charge would not necessitate reading meters every month, he said. The newly hired employee at the sewage system is Harold Watson.

While Bland declares that the new billing system would increase revenue for the water system, a survey made by two News reporters indicates that the exact opposite is true. While about 33% of the residential users would have a lower monthly rate, this group would reduce the amount of revenue going into the fund to pay off the bonded indebtedness of the water system.

Here's what the News found: —In checking three of the six books containing the meter readings of South Fulton water users, 333 residents paid the minimum of three dollars a month for water, and $1.50 for sewage tax. (The books were selected on the basis that they represented a cross-section of the 912 meter users in South Fulton City Manager Issue To Be Decided In August 4 Vote.

Tuesday, August 4, has been set as the date of a special election to decide whether or not South Fulton will adopt the city manager form of government.

The Fulton County Board of Election Commissioners called the special election in response to a petition filed by a group of South Fulton citizens. The petition carried a substantial number of names above the legally required minimum of 20 percent of the number of persons voting in the last general election held in the city.

If the proposal to change from the mayor-council form of government to the manager-commission plan is approved, the new city government will consist of three commissioners, one of whom will be elected by the group to act as mayor. The Commission will then have the responsibility of hiring a city manager who would be employed on a year-to-year basis.

The date for the election of the three city commissioners would be set by the county Election Commission during a period of between 30 and 50 days after the approval of the new form of government. The election would automatically end the terms of the present mayor and council members who took office January 1. Any of the present city officials would be eligible to run for the three commission seats.

COMMISSION TO MEET

The Fulton City Commission will meet in a special called session tonight (Thursday) to determine the city's offer for the purchase of the old post office building for use as a city hall.

Under the present form of government the city administration consists of a mayor and a council of six men. The mayor has no vote in decisions of the Council but has the power to veto its administrative decisions.

For several months sentiment has been growing in South Fulton that the present form of government, adopted when the city was incorporated in 1909, has

Jean Burnette On European Tour For Four Weeks Of Sightseeing

Miss Jean Burnette, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Burnette, left New York Tuesday by jet to begin a month-long tour of Europe. Jean is traveling with a group of 35 students from Murray State and Arkansas State Colleges. She flew from Memphis Sunday to join the group in New York, where they toured the World's Fair.

The tour will include England, the Netherlands, Belgium, Germany, Switzerland, Italy, and France. Special points of interest the group will visit include London, Amsterdam, Cologne, Heidelberg, Lucerne, Florence, Rome, the Vatican, Pisa, the French Riviera, and Paris.

In June Jean graduated from Murray State with high distinction after making an almost perfect academic record. She was valedictorian of Fulton High School's class of 1960.

Shortly after she returns from Europe Jean will leave to teach first grade classes in San Bernardino, California, and begin part-time graduate work at a near-by branch of the University of California.

Whereupon one citizen said: "He's (Bland) going to start snooping around in our pockets."

—Of the 353 who paid the minimum, ten months out of the year ($3.00), on only a few occasions did the bill run more than 85 to 90 cents per month in May and June when gardens, more washing and other uses increase because of the hot months.

Mayor Counce was unsuccessful in pointing out to Bland that in the long run the new system would be more expensive. "People will have a tendency to use much more water if they know they don't have to pay for it," Counce said. "Besides that, the extra wear and tear on the system, and extra maintenance work required would bring about additional costs, instead of savings," Counce said.

Bland could give no specific figures to back up his "more revenue" contention. He contradicted himself sharply in this respect when he said: "We've spent about $1500 fixing the water system and bought thousands of dollars more meters and still we haven't shown an increase." (in water system revenue.)

Spectators at the Council meeting Tuesday, frustrated by the new water cost system proposed by Bland and his cohorts, were curious as to what would happen if the water usage became excessive under the new system. Asked the question, Bland, who seems to be running the show at the Council said: "We're going to watch the meters and if people are using more than the minimum pays for we're going to do something about it."

Cavita Olive Is Jack Of All Trades -- And Enjoys Them All

Commerce. She explained, "It's like a bridge hand—the same thing never comes up twice." Some days Mrs. Olive finds herself compiling and preparing material for a pamphlet or booklet. Other days she may be doing work for the Chamber's Retail Merchants Bureau, Industrial Committee, or Civic Improvement Committee.

Much of Mrs. Olive's time is spent in connection with the efforts of the Chamber and other local organizations to attract more industry to Fulton and South Fulton. Besides the Industrial Committee, she also co-operates with the Twin Cities Industrial Development Association.

Any time anything needs to be done for the good of the community, Cavita Olive is ready and willing to do what she can to help. She has particularly worked with the Banana Festival, the centennial celebration, the clean-up, paint-up, fix-up campaigns, and other big city-wide projects.

As Chamber of Commerce secretary, Mrs. Olive acts as something of a dispatcher, fact-finder, problem-solver, and helping hand. She is called upon to provide directions for tourists, to supply lists of motels and restaurants, to answer innumerable questions about the Twin Cities, to dispense city maps, to help people find apartments, to trace people's ancestors, and even to locate tombstones. And she once helped a Fulton resident find a missing heir in California. Even hobos seek her out.

Mrs. Olive was born close to Cayce and lived in Cairo until she was nine years old. She graduated from Fulton High School in 1939 and went to work in the office at the OK Laundry. In 1941 she moved to the shipping office at the Henry I. Siegel plant where she worked until 1943.

In 1941 she married J. C. Olive, and their son, Sherell was born in 1943.

After graduating from South Fulton High School in 1961, Sherell spent two years at Lambuth College in Jackson, Tennessee, before transferring to Murray State College where he will begin his senior year in September. He is studying agriculture and business and plans to go into some phase of agriculture after he receives his degree.

The Olives live on a farm on the Kentucky side of State Line Road a mile west of the edge of Fulton. Mrs. Olive said, "Being a farmer's wife means there is something to do at home all the time."

In what leisure time she allows herself, Mrs. Olive likes to read and to play cards with her husband and friends. She also enjoys sewing, but seldom finds the time for much of it.

Even though it means that time to do things for herself is rare in her life, it is obvious to all who have been closely associated with Cavita Olive that she is always glad to have any opportunity to do anything she can for her friends and her community.

We Have A Nerve Inviting Dignitaries To Main Street, When Our Back Streets Look Like Dumps

From here on until Banana Festival time in October we will be reporting news that many State, National and International dignitaries will attend the three-day event in the Fall. Unless we see some drastic improvements made in the appearance of some sections of the city, we're going to urge that none of them come by rail.

Each time we have the unfortunate necessity to get some place by railroad, we get livid with anger and disgust at the views travelers get from a passenger train window. It's almost unbelievable that in the heart of the twin cities, a group of people are working feverishly to publicize our community the world over as a good, clean wholesome place in which to live and work, while on the side streets and alleys some areas look like public dumps.

We admit there are many things that we simply cannot do by force to improve the looks of our city. We cannot brow-beat a merchant into painting his building, even if that merchant knows full well it is an eyesore to the town. We cannot annihilate these tumble-down rental shacks that line the railroad tracks, making Shantytown look luxurious by comparison.

It doesn't seem either, that we are having any success closing these taverns, beer joints and honky-tonks the sight of which nauseates the traveler while the train is stopped at the station.

BUT WE CAN AND WE MUST take immediate action, even police action to clean up these garbage-infested back yards, these litter-laden areas around business property and these rat-breeding areas that can give the traveler no other opinion but that our cities are dirty, unkempt prideless areas that won't ever go anywhere at all.

Our first remark after we got off the train was "We have a colossal nerve inviting high-ranking dignitaries and distinguished people to the Banana Festival. If they should come by train as many of them will, their visit will be spoiled forever for having seen the public dumps on the side-streets and while the banquet cloth is on the main streets."

Where does the responsibility for cleaning up these areas belong? It belongs on many shoulders. The city officials of Fulton and South Fulton can be blamed in a large measure. Surely the police, the maintenance workers and the city employees have full knowledge that there are ordinances in force to prohibit the dumping of garbage on public streets.

Actually some of the responsibility should go to the county sanitarian, though we know from long experience that Harry Barry has waged a constant fight to clean up these filthy areas. WE KNOW how hard he's tried to get everybody concerned about the problem. He gets some help for a little while, the places are cleaned up a little and then they're right back like they were... piled higher and more hazardous and more unsanitary. Maybe Harry ought to cite the property-owners, then we'd see some fur flying.

We are going to suggest right this day that Mayors Milton Counce and Gilbert DeMyer, and every member of the official families of both cities get on a train, in broad daylight within the next week and sit at a train window and then determine whether we have the audacity to seek industry, invite dignitaries and plan anything worthwhile for these communities.

And just for the record, we're going to keep our eyes on those residential dump yards... when they're gone we'll applaud the public officials... if they stay... reading about them constantly is going to get about as obnoxious as the sight of these public garbage disposals.

Pea Ridge Area Is Shocking Example Of What Lack Of Roads Can Do To Farm Land And Homes

There is no wonder that a growing number of rank and file citizens get sick at the stomach when politicians hit the campaign trail and promise everything from painless childbirth to public roads. Here of late politicians stopped promising much on the blessed event department because medical science has taken care of that, but roads they promise, and they promise and they promise... and they'll keep on promising as long as people keep hoping that someday, somebody will get them that long needed road.

There are hundreds, maybe thousands of incidents in Kentucky, where frustrated residents on graveled, dusty, rocky roads have waited years and years for a road that is promised as a "sure thing" just as soon as a politician gets in office. But tenures of office come and go, and the poor harassed voter and taxpayer is forgotten until the next election comes along.

Such is the case of a road leading into, or out of Water Valley called the Pea Ridge Road. Constables, magistrates, state representatives, County Judges, Congressmen, Senators and Governors have promised the residents on that road for longer than the oldest citizen can remember, that the road will be fixed "after the election." Apparently the candidate never says which election, because the road is still not fixed, it's getting narrower, the ruts are getting deeper and bridges are held together by the residents and the entire area is getting to be a no-man's-land of despair.

One by one the once fertile little farms are being abandoned. The houses are rotting and falling. The soil is eroded. Even the road-banks are washing away, so bad that when winter comes the residents on the road are marooned until the road is passable again. A few bridges have been repaired on Pea Ridge Road, but some of them you travel at your own risk... and that's risky.

You wouldn't believe it but this road is the route of a school bus, a mail carrier, and what little farm to market commodities the area can produce... which is powerfully little.

We have in our files a letter or two from folks who have sent us photostated copies of the politicians' promises: "And I give you my word that if I am elected, I will certainly give the matter of your road top consideration." And we are sure that the matter is given top consideration... so high that the official can never reach it, and consequently the road never gets built.

But Pea Ridge is not alone in the vast wastelands of poor secondary roads. There are thousands of people who live on these roads that are in such poor repair that not even a horse and buggy can get to the super-highway built somewhere around them.

We are not so stupid as to think that every road that leads to town from every remote area in the State ought to be paved; or for that matter can be paved. There's just not that much money in the world. But it must get mighty discouraging to people to be promised a road year in and year out and never get it.

100 Years Ago This Week

An historical review of the Civil War day by day in Kentucky, as reviewed by the Kentucky Civil War Commission.

By JOE JORDAN

One hundred years ago this week, Stephen G. Burbridge, the Union Army's military governor of Kentucky, who had just been breveted major general for defeating Confederate Brig. Gen. John Hunt Morgan and breaking up his June raid into Kentucky, following up President Lincoln's proclamation martial law in the Commonwealth by issuing General Order No. 59 "for the suppression of guerrillas."

This was the document in which he authorized the arrest of "rebel sympathizers" living within five miles of the scene of any guerrilla outrage and said they were liable to be "sent beyond the limits of the United States," as Maj. Gen. William T. Sherman had suggested to him.

"So much of the property of rebel sympathizers as may be necessary to indemnify the government or loyal citizens for losses incurred by the acts of such lawless men, will be seized and appropriated for this purpose," said another paragraph of the order.

"Whenever an unarmed Union citizen is murdered, four guerrillas will be selected from the prisoners in the hands of the military authorities and publicly shot to death in the most convenient place near the scene of the outrage," another section provided.

Since the writ of habeas corpus had been suspended by the President's proclamation, and there was no appeal to the courts, Union Army officers, who according to Gov. Thomas E. Bramlette, a former Union Army colonel, often were influenced by Union civilian advisers, were free arbitrarily to decide whether anyone was in fact a "rebel sympathizer," whether he lived within five miles of the scene of an outrage, how much of his property should be appropriated, and whether he should be called a "guerrilla" and killed in retaliation for a killing which it was not even asserted he had any connection with. It might even have occurred while he was imprisoned.

Kerr's "History of Kentucky"

says: "The great danger of this course was the ease with which persons might be arrested as rebel sympathizers. There were no workable standards, when this discretion was once given into the hands of numerous over-zealous military commanders, of determining what constituted rebel sympathies. In the words of one who knew the situation from experience, 'The evidence on which people were denounced as rebels was generally of a worthless nature—a few words of criticism of some Federal officer, the reported presence of a son or brother in the Confederate Army, or the mere fabrications of someone who had a grudge to pay...'"

The Louisville Democrat printed a report that Maj. Gen. S. B. Buckner "at the head of a large Rebel force was moving in the direction of this state with the intention of making a raid into Eastern Kentucky." The Lexington Observer and Reporter doubted it, saying that when Morgan's officers were in Lexington in June they reported that Buckner had been transferred and had left Virginia for a new command in the west.

A—In most instances a registrant is informed of his classification within 30 days by the local board.

Q—I have been called to go for a physical examination. I need to know how long I will be gone since my job is one that requires very regular hours and as I may not pass the examination I want to keep my job as long as possible.

A—The examination normally should not require you to be absent from your work more than 2 days.

Q—I am a veteran who was discharged six months ago. I have a disability which I believe is traceable to my service. Is there a deadline for applying to the VA for disability compensation?

A—There is no deadline. You may apply at any time. However, if you apply within one year from your release from active duty, payments may be retroactive to your first day as a civilian. If you wait longer than one year, payments can become effective only as of the date you apply.

Q—I live in a small community and have been unable to find a lending agency which will grant me a loan to purchase a home. How may I obtain a GI loan?

A—Get in touch with your nearest VA Regional Office to see if your county is on the approved list for VA direct loans for home purchase.

Q—My uncle, a World War I veteran, recently died leaving no family except a daughter who is twenty-three but in an institution. Is it possible for her to receive pension?

A—Children normally receive payments until age eighteen, or until twenty-one if still in school. However, one who becomes helpless before eighteen may still be paid as long as helplessness continues. A claim should be filed to determine your cousin's entitlement.

JOHN F. KENNEDY MEMORIAL LIBRARY: A PROFILE OF THE MAN AND EPOCH

Among the many cultural and educational activities to which the late President Kennedy was devoted, his project for a library to preserve his life and work is the truly great interest of his life. Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy recently said:

President Kennedy's plan for the Library is being carried out by the American people. Already five million dollars have been collected in thousands of contributions—large and small. The total cost will be $10 million. The Library will be constructed in Boston, on a campus site selected by President Kennedy himself and donated by Harvard University.

The Library will provide a profile of the man and epoch. Even more, it will include the Kennedy Memorial Institute, a card below.

Miss LaDonna Hicks, James Thomas United In Lovely Church Services

Miss LaDonna Lee Hicks and James Edward Thomas were married on June 26 in the Bethlehem Methodist Church in Pilot Oak, Kentucky. The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Norman Crittenden, pastor of the church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur T. Hicks of Duketown, Tennessee, Route 2, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Swayne Thomas of Mayfield, Route 4.

A program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Charles Williams, pianist, preceding the ceremony.

The vows were exchanged before an altar decorated with a wrought iron arch, entwined with huckleberry greenery and centered with white wedding bells. Tall baskets of white gladioli with fern and greenery were on each side of the arch.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a white full-length gown of embroidered satin, with waist-length veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of feathered carnations and greenery, centered with white gladioli with white satin streamers tied in love knots. Her only jewelry was a tiny gold charm bracelet, a gift of the groom.

Miss Paula Goodwin, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Miss Betty Thomas, sister of the groom, and Miss Susan Crittenden. Their dresses were identical except for color, being pastel blue, pink and yellow. Little Miss Belinda Herndon, niece of the bride, was flower girl, wearing a dress of pastel pink broadened satin. She dropped rose petals from a white arm basket.

Gary Paul Wiggins served the groom as best man. Ushers were Jackie Thomas, brother of the groom, and Edward R. Ray, brother-in-law of the groom. Candelighters were Tim Hicks, brother of the bride, and Johnny Thomas, brother of the groom. Larry Spragg, nephew of the groom, carried the rings on a white satin pillow trimmed in white lace.

Following the wedding ceremony a reception was held in the church. Assisting in serving were Mrs. Bill Herndon, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Norman Crittenden. Miss Beverly Cates was in charge of the guest register.

The bridal couple left on an unannounced wedding trip, after which they will be at home in Wingo, Kentucky, Route 2.

Karen Rae Barnes, Norman Allison Wed In Ceremony In California

Miss Karen Rae Barnes of Fullerton, California, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell A. Barnes of Phoenix, Arizona, and Norman Victor Allison of Fullerton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Allison of South Fulton, Tennessee, were recently married in Fullerton in St. Philip's Catholic Church. The church was beautifully decorated with gladioli and carnations.

The bride wore a white satin sheath street-length dress, with a shoulder veil of illusion attached to a rose crown. Her flowers were white orchids with a shower arrangement of white satin streamers.

Miss Rachelle Hyde, of Fullerton, was maid of honor. Her street-length dress was of pink satin and she wore a matching veil and carried pink gladioli.

Bruce Nelson, of Placentia, California, served as best man.

Miss Barnes attended Phoenix College and is a member of Theta Chi Delta sorority.

Mr. Allison attended the University of Tennessee at Martin and El Camino College at Torrance, California.

The couple left on a wedding trip to Las Vegas, Nevada and Phoenix, Arizona and are now at home at 2440 W. Harbor Blvd., Apartment 1, Fullerton, California.

Among the out of town guests was Mrs. Harry Allison, mother of the groom, who was the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Allison of Santa Ana, California.

Miss Crittenden, David Speight Marry July 3

Miss Velma Crittenden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Crittenden of Wingo, Kentucky, was married at 7:30 p. m., July 3, to David E. Speight, son of Mr. and Mrs. George P. Speight of South Fulton. The ceremony was performed in the Enon Baptist Church in Wingo, with Rev. Vester Moreland, pastor, officiating at the double ring ceremony.

The bride wore a street-length dress of white embroidered cotton and her flowers were white cymbidiums. Her only attendant was her sister, Miss Wilma Crittenden, bridesmaid. Her dress was of white organza over blue, with a corsage of white carnations.

James Johnson served the bridegroom as best man.

Immediately following the ceremony, the bride's parents entertained at a reception in the church basement, after which the couple left for a brief wedding trip. On their return, they will reside in South Fulton.

Book Gift From the White House

LOOK WHO'S HERE... Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson inspected the Breathitt County Bookmobile during her recent visit to Jackson, the County seat. The First Lady left an autographed copy of "The White House," a history and guidebook of the official residence, with the Breathitt County librarian, Mrs. Carrie Hunt. Mrs. Johnson said that she hoped her contribution to the Bookmobile would circulate as widely as the vehicle's other 1,000 volumes, provided by the State Department of Libraries. Some 100 Kentucky counties now are served by Bookmobiles with service to the Women's Prison at Pewee Valley as the newest innovation. The Shelby County Bookmobile will begin regular trips to the prison in July.

Mrs. Cooper Advises Of Stamp For Homemakers

In a letter to the Fulton County News, Mrs. John Sherman Cooper, the wife of the Senator from Kentucky, has expressed her deep pleasure at the forthcoming commemorative stamp honoring the Homemakers of America. Mrs. Cooper, who writes an interesting and informative column for several Kentucky newspapers, has addressed her letter this week to all the Homemakers in Kentucky.

Here is the letter:

June 30, 1964

Dear Kentucky Homemakers—success at last! The Postmaster General has just written me as follows:

"It gives me great pleasure to inform you that I have approved a 5-cent commemorative stamp honoring Homemakers for issuance this year in conjunction with the 50th anniversary of the Smith-Lever Act.

"Full details with regard to the date and place of first day sale have not been determined at this time but because of your special interest in this subject I thought you would like to know the status of the stamp."

The idea was started in 1957 by Miss Verna Richardson, Home Demonstration Agent of Nelson County. Mrs. C. P. Moore of Bardonia was District Chairman of the Stephen Foster District at that time and was then appointed a committee of one to work on the commemorative stamp. It was Mrs. Moore who told me about it and got me going as her Washington agent. I am so proud that it was Kentucky women who fought and persevered and won in the stamp race, where the odds are so high—over 3,000 applications for 16 stamps a year. The Homemakers commemorative postage stamp will be a tribute to the American woman and will honor the extension service of the United States Department of Agriculture which came into being half a century ago.

I have just come back from a luncheon given by the wife of the Secretary of Defense, Mrs. McNamara, for the wife of the President of Costa Rica, Mrs. Orlich, who is here on a three-day State visit. The luncheon took place on "The Sequoia," which is a small yacht provided for the Secretary of the Navy and which is lent by him to members of the Cabinet for official entertaining. It's dock is at the Naval Station at Anacostia, where about 25 guests assembled on the after deck for a cruise down the Potomac and an air conditioned meal indoors. The Costa Rican ladies were Mrs. Orlich, the wives of the Secretary of State and the Secretary of the Treasury, and the very pretty wife of their Ambassador to Washington. The American guests were a mixture of government wives and friends, including Mrs. Dean Rusk, with Mrs. Gerald Ford of Michigan representing the House of Representatives and me the Senate. A good many of us speak Spanish, which made the conversation lively. The Costa Rican ladies were charming and enthusiastic about their visit, but I felt sorry for them pursuing their official program of sightseeing this afternoon, as the temperature was over 90 degrees, plus high humidity. One of them told me wistfully: "I wish I had not bought new shoes for this trip."

Six Dead, Twelve Injured In Five-Day Wreck Series

Two more wrecks Saturday and Sunday raised the Fulton area's traffic death toll to six in a five day period. Twelve other persons were injured—many critically—in the series of head-on collisions which began last Wednesday.

A Belleville, Illinois, woman was fatally injured about 7:30 Sunday morning in a crash on the U. S. 51 overpass at the "Y" about four miles north of Fulton. Six others were seriously injured.

One of the cars was crossing the bridge on the wrong side of the highway. The S-shaped overpass has been the scene of innumerable accidents and deaths in past years.

A man, woman, and two young children died as a result of car-bus collision at 4:40 Saturday morning on U. S. 45 one mile south of Wingo.

Police reports indicate that the car, all of whose passengers were killed, was in the wrong lane when it crashed into the bus, whose passengers escaped injury.

Mrs. L. D. Overby of Cayce was fatally injured last Wednesday morning and five others were injured—three seriously—when their car was hit by a truck attempting to pass another on a hill on U. S. 51 about two miles north of Fulton. The victims represented four generations of the same family.

State Turnpikes Revenue Increases

Fast-growing revenues indicate Kentucky's toll roads are on a solid financial base, Highway Commissioner Henry Ward declared in listing receipts for May. Ward noted that toll collections in May were more than a half million dollars for the first time and showed substantial gains over the same month of 1963 on the Mountain Parkway and the Kentucky Turnpike.

The Western Kentucky Parkway, which was not open a year ago, showed a healthy increase in May over the preceding month of April.

The Western Kentucky Parkway was opened October 27, 1963. Specifically, here is what the figures show:

MOUNTAIN PARKWAY - 125 per cent increase over May of last year. In 1963, $35,394 was collected and during this May, $79,952.

KENTUCKY TURNPIKE - an increase of 39 per cent over May 1963. Collections totaled $244,390 in 1963, and $340,988 in 1964.

WESTERN KENTUCKY PARKWAY - a 20 per cent increase for May over this April. During April $104,937 was collected; May revenue totaled $126,749.

"This points up once again the financial soundness of the toll road system," Ward said. "Through this method we are giving Kentucky the modern highway facilities it needs, with the knowledge that these highways will definitely pay for themselves."

Each of Kentucky's toll roads is financed by a bond issue which will be retired by toll collections. Upon retirement of the bonds the roads will become toll free.

Work began in April on another toll road—the Central Kentucky Parkway—which will extend from near Versailles to Elizabethtown.

Park Reservations Now Quicker

FIRST STATE PARK RESERVATION through the new Central Reservation Information Office at Frankfort is made by Myron T. Gray (right), director of the National Touring Department of the American Automobile Association in Washington, D. C. Taking his call is Mrs. Ann Sanders, secretary in the State Parks Department office. Gray's two-minute call reserved a room in the General Butler State Park lodge for him August 15-19. The central service makes available local lines from Louisville, Lexington, and Cincinnati to the Frankfort office, which is connected by direct line to 12 vacation-type parks. Persons with definite choices still are urged to make their own reservations direct to those parks. The new service helps those undecided on a particular park or others to find similar accommodations when their first park choice is full.

Park Reservations Facility Expanded

Response has been so heavy to the new Central Reservation Information Office of the Kentucky Department of Parks, that more telephone lines, another operator, and extra hours have been added.

"The response has been better than we expected," State Parks Commissioner Robert D. Bell said.

"We have added another line each to Louisville and to the Cincinnati area and another operator to take care of the load."

"And we're keeping the office open until 6 p. m. on week days and from 9 a. m. to noon on Saturdays," he added.

In the first 22 days, 1,567 calls and 893 reservations were handled by the new reservation center. That's an average of 71 calls and 41 reservations per day.

Louis Hempel, training officer in the Division of Operations for the Parks Department, is in charge.

"We received 127 calls the first week," Hempel said. "And the pace has picked up until our one-day high of 156 calls and 77 reservations."

"The farthest call came from New York City. Of the three cities where we offer direct lines from a local number, Louisville has made the most calls."

Commission Discusses Meter Job, Objects To Unauthorized Hiring

The Fulton City Commission discussed the job of parking meter patrolman, the use of unauthorized personnel, and a number of items of a fairly routine nature at its regular meeting Monday night.

The creation of the job of full-time meter patrolman was considered, but action on the matter was postponed until the next regular meeting.

Commissioner Ward Johnson brought up the fact that the city had advertised for applicants for the position but that it had never been officially created by the Commission.

City Attorney James Warren pointed out that the Commission had tacitly approved the position in accepting it as a part of the city budget and providing a salary for such an employee in the city budget. He said that no official creating the position was necessary, but that the Commission was under no obligation to fill it.

It was pointed out that City Manager Rollin Shaw had hired an employee on a temporary basis to patrol and service meters, duties which would be performed by a permanent patrolman when hired by the Commission. Objections were made to the hiring of such temporary help without approval by the Commission.

Police Chief Richard Myatt stated that the man's services were needed and that the city had already benefited from them.

After lengthy discussion the Commission decided to take no action on the matter until the next meeting, and thus continue the employment of the temporary meter man until the end of the month.

In other action the Commission: 1.) Advised E. E. Williamson on procedure for requesting a variance in the city's planning and zoning regulations.

2.) Continued discussion on acquiring the old post office building for use by the city.

3.) Voted to contract with the state to continue its assistance to the Planning and Zoning Board.

4.) Agreed to have a lightning-killed tree and numerous dead branches removed from Fairview Cemetery and the City Park.

5.) Directed Mayor Gilbert DeMyer to write the State Highway Department requesting action to make the U. S. 51 overpass at the "Y" safer for traffic.

6.) Heard reports of alleged gambling at a local business establishment and asked the police department to investigate.

7.) Agreed to ask the Highway Department to replace a defective section of the new black-top pavement on Lake Street, and 8.) Discussed problems concerning the tax assessment of the Fulton Electric System.

KENNETH TURNER has badge pinned on him at a news conference held in Frankfort by Governor Edward T. Breathitt Friday. State High School Enrollment Expands To Set New Record

A report just released by the Kentucky Department of Education reflects the biggest decade of expansion in Kentucky high school education on all fronts.

While revealing a bigger and better program in general, the report by the Department's Division of Research also points in particular on the 10th anniversary of the Minimum Foundation Program the progress made possible by that legislation.

The record total of more than 36,000 high school graduates this year is 8,099 more than the previous high of 28,140 in 1953, Dr. D. E. Elswick, research director, said.

The 1964 total includes the 41 graduates of Fulton High School, which graduated 46 seniors in 1955. In Fulton County, there are a total of 123 graduates this year in comparison to 121 in 1953. This is a gain of 2 graduates, or 1.7 per cent, since 1953.

Junior classes in Fulton County had 176 members this year. At Fulton High the number was 69.

"The high birth rate of 1946 and the peak birth rate of 1947 largely account for the record class of graduates this year," Dr. Elswick explained. "In addition, the combination of those high birth years, plus a gradual increase in holding power, is expected to set still another record in 1965. Next year's Kentucky seniors, on the basis of this year's junior classes, are expected to total more than 40,000."

What does this increase really mean?

"First," Dr. Elswick said, "It required a big increase in housing. Total high school enrollment in Kentucky for the year just ended was 245,000, as compared to 170,520 in 1954-55. The construction program under way in so many school districts throughout the state is helping to take care of this tremendous growth in enrollment. "Increased holding power from the ninth grade through the class of 1964 also is obvious, with the final statistics expected to set a record."

Estimated holding power, on the basis of May figures, will be 65.7 per cent for all Kentucky high schools, as compared to the 61.5 per cent for the 1963 class.

"Also significant is the growth and expansion of the elementary school program in Kentucky," Dr. Elswick added. "In past years, high schools in Kentucky sometimes were improved at the cost of the elementary units."

Reorganization of schools and the increased emphasis on upgrading the elementary school program in every public school district, he believes, is perhaps the most significant advance in public schools during the first decade of the Minimum Foundation Program.

In 1955, there were only 29 Kentucky public school senior classes with an enrollment of 100 or more, the desirable minimum suggested by the Conant Report. That year, there were 10 other senior classes enrolling 90 to 100 students, making a total of 39 public high schools with 90 or more seniors. These 39 schools represented only 8.5 per cent of the 457 complete public high schools, a survey showed. But they accounted for 27.8 per cent, or about one in every four seniors, of public enrollment in the state.

In 1964, according to the recent study, there are 100 Kentucky public high schools with senior classes of 100 students or more and 20 others with 90 to 100 members. These 120 public high schools represent 34.4 per cent of the 349 complete high schools. And in these schools are 22,041 seniors of a total of 33,306 in public schools, or 66.2 per cent, two of every three seniors in public schools. Meanwhile, increased enrollment in non-public high schools during the 10 years has pushed the total of classes of 100 or more from five to 16.

Rev. Russell Rodgers filed his regular appointment at New Salem Baptist Church the past Sunday at both the morning and evening services.

Miss Ruth Harris left several days ago for her home in Tallahassee, Fla., after spending her vacation here with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. T. T. Harris, and other relatives around this section.

Mr. and Mrs. Buton Lassiter, Mrs. Sam Mathis and daughters, Sammie Jane, Liz and Becky, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bynum and children, Gloria Ann and Hal, returned home after spending their vacation in Akron, Ohio with each of their children, Mr. and Mrs. David Lassiter and daughter Jackie, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Lassiter and other relatives in the city.

The summer revival begins at

New Salem Church next Sunday, July 19. Rev. Rodgers, the pastor, will be assisted by Rev. Henry Davis of Buchanan, Tenn.

Some time ago this writer reported that the skunks had overrun our section. Well, the farmers decided to take some action, for now Leslie Westmoreland has reported that he killed seven of the pesky animals. Buton Lassiter has killed one. We hope many more will be killed, they are so numerous and are roaming the premises day and night.

Reports from the bedside of Luney Murrell of Akron, Ohio are that he remains about the same. This Vet of World War I has been abed many months now.

Mr. and Mrs. George Haygood and children, of Elgin, Ill., will arrive this week to spend their vacation with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Mathis of this village and Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Haygood of Fulton, Route 3.

Completely Revised "Stars" Show Is Great, Critic Says

"It surely is one of the best amphitheatre productions available anywhere," Don Walker, Paducah Sun-Democrat drama critic said after seeing the completely revised script of Kermit Hunter's "Stars In My Crown." Mr. Walker, who saw a dress rehearsal of the drama last week and went back on Sunday night, reported that this year's show has a "stronger story-line and more vital characterization than generally is found in outdoor drama. The added twist of fantasy and color given by the mythical Mr. Rivers, played by nationally known song-writer Billy Edd Wheeler, gives it a nice flavor." Showing six days a week, with a presentation on Sunday nights, the play is not shown on Monday night.

A capacity crowd of more than 1,100, including Gov. Edward T. Breathitt, enthusiastically received the opening of the second season of "Stars In My Crown" at the Kenlake Amphitheatre on opening night June 27.

Comments heard by spectators at the opening agreed that this year's first performance found the cast of more than 60 at a much higher pitch of professionalism than at the beginning last year.

"Those who saw the show in its fledgling season last year say it is greatly improved this year. It flows smoothly and more rapidly, holding the attention even of the youngsters in the audience.

"The dance routines are sharp and snappy. The dialogue is brisk and nearly flawless. The chorus is full and rich.

"Newcomer Ted Urban of Frankfort is virile and vital in the roles of Alben Barkley and his father, John Barkley. He even looks like Mr. Barkley, those who knew the Veep say. One even went so far as to claim, 'He even walks like Barkley.'

"Veteran James Maddux reaches heights of acting seldom seen outside of big-time Broadway in portraying the central character, Mr. Beaumont, through about 50 years of river living. Maddux makes the character live, fitting speech patterns and movements and manner to match the growing years of Beaumont from mature manhood to death in a wheelchair at 90.

"Billy Edd Wheeler is equally good in the even more difficult role of Mr. Rivers, fairy-like creature who alternately plays with children and antagonizes adults like 'a little green devil,' as Beaumont calls him.

"Billy Edd manages to make the creature of fantasy believable in all his many moods. Mr. Rivers, after all, is the spirit of the four great rivers of the area.

"Maddux's wife, Roxane, is one of several persons who bring off more than one role in the drama with a large measure of success.

"Joel Colodner, an addition to the cast from New York, brings solid ability to the characterizations of Aaron Burr, ambitious empire builder, and a young gangster intent on getting rich quick on running Golden Pond whisky.

"The child stars, Steve Britton, as young Alben Barkley, and Kenneth Thomas as young Irvin S. Cobb, are now veterans troupers, with one season already under their belts, and they show it.

"The dances seem more polished and more a part of the whole play this year.

"The chorus is equally as fine as last year when it was excellent.

"All-in-all, 'Stars' is a much more professional package than it was last year.

"As it stands, it would surely compare favorably with summer stock anywhere in the country."

Fulton County Agent's News

JOHN WATTS

Fulton County farmers are now eligible for cotton classification and market news services for the 1964 season, according to M. P. Talbot, Jr., who is in charge of the Memphis Classing Office. The county-wide group application for these services was submitted by John B. Watts, Fulton County Agent and was approved today. C. P. Mabry of Hickman will serve as president of the Fulton County Cotton Improvement Group.

The free classification and market news services are provided for farmers under the Smith-Doxey Act of 1937. Farmers in Fulton County had 4,468 bales classed under this program last year.

Farmers in Fulton County, especially in the Delta Section, are planting several thousand acres of soybeans following a good wheat harvest over about 40 bushels per acre. A lack of soil moisture is reducing soybean stands on about one-half of this acreage. Most farmers are planting the Lee variety and need good moisture conditions to start a good soybean crop.

Back-rubbers, located close to leafing areas, are very good to control flies on beef cattle.

Use one of these three materials in the back-rubber: Emulsifiable concentrate of DDT, Toxaphene or Methoxychlor. Each material should be the 5-percent strength. For homemade back-rubbers, use 1 gallon of mixture for every 20 feet of back-rubber.

A new leaflet, listed as Kentucky Agricultural Extension Service Miscellaneous No. 370, on making and using a back-rubber, is available at county agent's offices.

International Soccer Playoff Set As Big Attraction At Festival

Championship Costa Rican and Honduran soccer teams will meet in an international soccer playoff during the three-day second International Banana Festival, October 1-3.

Both teams are members of the International Soccer League, which includes teams from many Latin American countries. The team from Costa Rica is the champion of the league and the one from Honduras won the league's last cup tournament.

The two championship teams have played each other twice during the season, with one victory going to each. The playoff, for which the International Banana Festival will be the host, is expected to provide an exhibition of soccer at its finest.

Each team will consist of eleven players plus substitutes. The members of both teams received college educations in the United States and speak English fluently. All are natives of the countries their teams represent and come from interesting backgrounds.

The president of the league will serve as master of ceremonies at the playoff and will introduce the players, explain the rules of the game and describe the action over the public address system. The programs for the event will contain information about each of the players.

Soccer is the most popular sport in Latin America and eclipses such American favorites as baseball and football. The action is fast, rugged and dangerous, and derives much of its popularity from the excitement inherent in such a game.

Although soccer has recently been introduced in the United States and is rapidly growing in popularity, the playoff during the International Banana Festival will be the first time the game has been seen in West Kentucky and West Tennessee.

Standard Fruit Company Shows Big Gain In Net Income Over Same 1963 Period

Standard Fruit and Steamship Company of New Orleans, the nation's second largest importer of bananas, today announced estimated net income from operations of $3,120,000 for the twenty-four week period ended June 13, 1964. This amounts to $2.76 per common share as compared with $1.60 for the comparable period in 1963 on earnings of $1,849,000. The firm is one of the Banana Festival's most enthusiastic supporters financially and otherwise.

Dr. Joseph S. D'Antoni, company president, stated that wholesale prices received for bananas had been high in recent months due, at least partially, to a temporary shortage of fresh produce. He indicated that these high prices for bananas could not be assumed to continue indefinitely.

Dr. D'Antoni explained that the company is continuing its aggressive programs of improvement and expansion. He said, "Standard will re-enter the European market on a regular basis after an absence of nearly twenty-five years. An agreement was reached in June with the Eurobana group for sale of Standard's bananas in seven Western European countries. Importations will begin later in the year and are expected to continue on a regular basis. Eurobana is composed of four leading European importing and produce pro-

Banana Festival Opens Contest Seeking Symbolic Official Flag

Designs for an official flag are being sought for the second International Banana Festival to be held in Fulton, Kentucky and South Fulton, Tennessee October 1-3.

The Banana Festival Association which handles arrangements for the annual festival, is offering prizes of $25 and $10 for the best design suggestions. Anyone is eligible to enter the contest, which will be judged by the festival's board of directors.

Flag designs must be done in green and yellow, the official festival colors, and should stress the idea of friendship and understanding between the Americas, the theme of the festival.

All entries should be submitted to the Fulton-South Fulton Chamber of Commerce by August 1 on paper measuring three feet by five feet. A rough suggestion of the idea submitted is adequate for judging.

The design accepted will be reproduced on cloth and will be flown in the Twin Cities during the three-day festival beginning October 1.

Katee Lowe Miller, Husband, Son Working In 'Stars In My Crown'

Katee Lowe Miller, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kellie Lowe, Sr., again plays a school marm and is makeup director in "Stars In My Crown," Kermit Hunter's outdoor drama of West Kentucky. Her husband, Joe, is master electrician and their son Joe Kellie, 9, is one of his mother's pupils in the show.

Before joining "Stars In My Crown" last year, Mrs. Miller acted in the Murray State College Theatre, the Kentucky Dam Village Summer Theatre, and the Market House Theatre. She has also acted and toured with mental health plays through the theater department at Southern Illinois University and has been makeup director and lighting technician in several productions.

The Millers live at 2638 Kentucky Avenue in Paducah. "Stars In My Crown," again starting famed song-writer and folk-singer Billy Edd Wheeler, is showing at 8:15 nightly (except Mondays) at the Kenlake Amphitheatre in Kentucky Lake State Park near Murray, Kentucky.

The show, packed with drama, music and dancing, tells the story of the struggle of the people of West Kentucky to tame their four great rivers, which gave both life and death to the whole region.

Veteran James Maddux returns to play the central role of Henry Beaumont, a West Kentucky farmer who through his life sees the area change from the pioneer days through the depression to the TVA era.

Wheeler, as Mr. Rivers, personifies the spirit of the region's four great but brutal rivers and their eventual taming by Kentucky Dam, which forms the tremendous lake on whose shores "Stars In My Crown" unfolds.

University Dean Predicts Future Of UK College

Dr. Martin M. White, the transplanted Texan who has been dean of the University of Kentucky College of Arts and Sciences since 1947, is not a man who customarily uses a crystal ball in his work.

But at a recent dinner for faculty members of the college, Dean White for a few minutes took on the role of a seer and predicted some changes which he feels will occur in UK's biggest college within the next 10 years.

Here are some of his forecasts: Attendance at class lectures will become optional. Professors will lecture to much larger groups, from 300 to 1,000 students, either directly or through closed-circuit television. Students will study by themselves in their rooms or in special booths or small seminars. The professor will remain to a large extent in his office to help students with difficult problems and to do research.

More emphasis will be placed upon comprehensive examinations, and less emphasis upon monthly quizzes. The vast majority of students will have spent at least one summer in study abroad. Entering students upon admission will either have mastered calculus and the equivalent of the second college year of a foreign language or will make it up as a deficiency their first year in college.

The faculty will be two and a half times as large as at present, but at least a third of them will be off the campus at any one time—giving lectures, attending schools, or serving as consultants. Most of the faculty will also be taking a course in another but related field on the campus.

And, finally, the student's life will become centered even more than now in the library or in the laboratory. For learning, Dean White reminded his audience, must ever remain a personal and lonely process.

Your Wisest investment of time... REGULAR CHURCH WORSHIP

"I was glad when they said unto me, let us go into the house of the Lord."

Plenty of ROOM!

Have you ever, when on a vacation, in the peak of the tourist season, looked and looked along the highway for a roadside park with an empty table so that your family could have a picnic lunch and rest? Then, of course, all might travel refreshed. How nice it is to come upon a park like this one, with the breeze blowing across the water.

Isn't it wonderful that there is always plenty of room at the House of God? There is always a church where you can receive spiritual food, and sweet rest of the soul. The church holds out its arms in welcome to all, inviting everyone to come and learn of God. Won't you attend this week?

"Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest." Matthew 11:28.

©Coleman Adv. Ser., P. O. Box 20067, Dallas 20, Texas

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Democratic Women Plan Group Going To "Stars"

"Stars In My Crown," the outdoor drama of West Kentucky at Kentucky Lake State Park near Murray, has designated July 25 as First District Democratic Woman's Club Night. Mrs. Mildred Hancock, vice president of the Kentucky Democratic Woman's Club, has urged all members in the First District to attend.

This second season of Kermit Hunter's colorful drama of West Kentucky brings a sparkling new version to the amphitheatre under the stars on the shores of Kentucky Lake.

Many improvements have been made in the show, which enjoyed great popularity in its first season last summer. New scenes, new songs, new dances and many other changes have been made to assure that this year's show will be even more interesting and enjoyable.

Billed as an outdoor drama of West Kentucky, the play is about the struggle of the people of the area to tame the great rivers which enriched the land, but harassed its people. Based on solid fact, the drama strikingly presents the story of the area from pioneer days to the TVA era and focuses on the life of famed native son Alben Barkley. Colorful songs and dances and impressive staging provide added entertainment for the whole family for two exciting hours.

"Stars In My Crown" shows nightly (except Mondays) at 8:15 at the Kenlake Amphitheatre.

RANDALL BURCHAM, South Fulton attorney, will soon be installed as commander of American Legion post at Union City. Burcham is a Navy veteran and long-time member of the Naval Reserve.

become inadequate for the present needs of the city. Proponents of the change contend that experience with a city manager in Fulton has shown that such an arrangement, which is widely used in cities of similar size, greatly adds to the efficiency of city government. This would result from providing a professionally trained administrator to handle the routine day-to-day problems which otherwise would have to be referred to the Council and to act as a technical advisor on important matters.

ATTRACTIVE daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Warren, Route 1, Dukedom, was a recent visitor to Gardner's studio to have this picture made.

read through a number of papers and then turned to my wife—who had been one of Miss Martin's students—and said this student has written the best paper in class. It was Jacques Voegeli of Fulton. My wife recognized the name and said "Of course, he was one of Miss Mary Martin's students."

Perhaps my special partiality for Miss Mary comes from the fact that she was my wife's teacher. My wife speaks often of the way in which Miss Mary developed an interest in history in all of them and how she could make them see almost what had happened in the past.

It is not an easy task to make most students like history if one deals heavily in dates and lists of treaties and battles. Too many high school teachers have done just that and have spoiled students for later study of the subject. Those that have been able to make the students understand something of the excitement of past events have prepared their students for later enjoyment of advanced courses. Miss Mary was that type of teacher because those who had done well for her continued to enjoy and do well in the subject.

Sincerely,

ing on people for taking advantage of the privilege he gave them. If he's going go around reading meters to see how much we use, what the heck's the use of adding more money to the widows and pensioners just to make people believe he's trying to make money for the city."

In another action Bland initiated a hard-sell sales campaign to buy expensive billing and addressing equipment proposed to be used in the water and gas departments. Costing approximately $3400, plus the cost of hiring skilled personnel to operate the machines, Counce pointed out that the office force could not be reduced as Bland contended. "The work in the office is divided up among all the girls and they do everything among them," Counce revealed, "and no matter how many machines you get we can't run a business here size of ours with less than three office workers."

Counce vetoed the machine purchase motion on the basis that it, too, needed study, since it appeared that none of the supporters of the measure had any knowledge of its value or its efficiency potential.

STRONG TO ITALY

Ensign Barry Strong has left Fulton to begin a three-year tour of duty with the Navy in Italy. His wife, Nancy, will join him in Naples.

Are you a mattress miser?

Many people are stingier with themselves on mattresses than with anything else in life. They are sleepskates!

They'll go for years on a lumpy old mattress they bought or inherited when they were married and couldn't afford a better one.

Nobody sees it, so what's the difference! You sleep on it, so what's the difference!

But, oh the improvement in sleep they could have on a brand new Beautyrest by Simmons! With a new Beautyrest they'd wonder why they ever put up with that old third-grade monster mattress from earlier days.

Every three or four years they'll buy a new car on which the first year's depreciation is from $500 to $1,000. But they may hesitate to spend $79.50 on a new Beautyrest (or only about $10 more on a supersize) which will last at least 10 years.

The best sleep on earth—Beautyrest—costs you only peanuts (... comparatively!)
